FROM THE RABBI

The New Norm

America is starting to reopen but there is a new norm. Social distancing, masks, twenty second hand washes and a new awareness has emerged from the world-wide quarantine that Covid-19 imposed on us.

We are now celebrating the holiday of Shavuot, where the whole Jewish nation experienced the revelation of G-d and the giving of the Ten Commandments at Mount Sinai.

The next morning, the Jews were told to go back to regular life – but there was a new norm. Kosher food, celebrate Shabbat, donate 10% of your income and the list never ended!

Just as the Covid-19 regulations are here to better your health physically, the Torah rules are given to enhance our spiritual life and relationship with G-d. Let's enjoy the new norm – it's less painful than wearing a mask ☺

- Rabbi Zushe Greenberg

HEBREW SCHOOL

Aleph Champ

Congratulations to all the students that passed levels in the Aleph Champion hebrew reading program, and especially to the 2 girls that reached the Black Aleph Champ level:
Ariel Vilensky & Rachel Torgov.

A big thank you to our coordinator Danielle Goodman and our Zoom tutors Dani & Marisa Apple who helped so many students progress even when school had to switch online. We offered summer tutoring and were impressed by how many students were eager to continue with Dani & Marisa over their summer break!

Condolences to:

Irwin (Ida) Haber & Nancy (Richard) Schmidt
on the passing of their mother, Sylvia Haber
