FROM THE RABBI

A Prank at a Bris

Last week, Yehudah Barkan, a famous Israeli actor passed away. A large part of his genre was performing pranks.

Once Barkan sent an imposter to pretend to be a mohel at the bris of his own nephew.

As the "mohel" prattles on about how thrilled he is to finally perform a circumcision, the camera stays on the proud bubbe and zayde, who are horrified but too polite to say anything. The "mohel" opens his leather bag and pulls out a pair of gardening shears and an electric saw. As the baby's mother, Barkan's sister, draws close to fainting, he reveals that it was a hoax!

When Abraham made a bris when he was 99 years old, it was not a prank. This was real. Judaism is Real!

- Rabbi Zushe Greenberg

PRESCHOOL

Our preschoolers are enjoying the "specials" each week and learning many new skills.

All classes have Karate and Dance classes each week while PreK has Yoga and Hebrew as well.

To make it extra safe, all specials are held in the large Sanctuary (when it's too cold to be outdoors) and the specialist teaches from behind the 'blue line' which is over 10 feet away from the class. We make it work!

HEBREW SCHOOL

This week we learned about Jewish names; where they come from and how they are connected to our souls.

Kids joining on zoom and in person both enjoyed an interactive slideshow and craft.

The students beaded beautiful mask chains and included alphabet beads spelling their Jewish names.
