FROM THE RABBI

Attack on 770

This week, news spread of a vehicle ramming the doors of 770 Eastern Parkway, the Chabad-Lubavitch headquarters. Thank G-d, no one was hurt. While the images were unsettling, Judaism teaches us to look deeper and further.

The prophets describe a time when nations will run toward Jerusalem seeking G-d's wisdom. One day, people will be pressing at the doors of synagogues and Chabad centers—not in violence, but with longing. Knocking urgently, asking to learn, to grow, to connect.

Moments like these remind us: darkness is temporary. The hunger for holiness is real—and it is coming.

- Rabbi Zushe Greenberg

PRESCHOOL

We are excited to invite our Pre-K classes to a special Tu B'Shvat celebration, together with a parent or special guest on Monday, February 2.

This meaningful activity will be filled with learning, connection, and hands-on fun. The children will explore Israel and the Seven Species that the Land of Israel is famous for and it's connection to this holiday. We will begin with a circle time shared by children and adults, followed by a special activity where our guests will help prepare a falafel lunch for the class. We'll then sit together to enjoy an Israeli-style meal. We look forward to celebrating Tu B'Shvat and learning together as a community.

HEBREW SCHOOL

We are getting ready for a special Shabbat; Shabbat at Home!

The children will be the party planners, choosing the correct number of candles, pretty napkins, and desserts to take home for their families. Every family will also receive challah dough to bake and grape juice.

Children who send in a photo of themselves right before Shabbat, standing next to their set Shabbat table, will receive a prize. One lucky winner will also receive a $50 Amazon gift card.
